PROJECT ABSTRACT

Chatham County will establish a coordinated Chatham County Homeland Security Program inclusive of a county-wide multi-disciplinary threat assessment and management network supported and enhanced by innovative technology to mitigate and respond to incidents of violence. Our network, under the leadership of local law enforcement in partnership with emergency management will develop a sustainable countywide network with standardized protocols regarding violent crime, increase awareness and competencies through multi-jurisdictional training sessions, and increase community-based efforts and awareness to encourage reporting threats and violent crimes. Partners in this effort include Crime Stoppers of Savannah-Chatham County and the National Police Foundation. The network will meet regularly to communicate, collaborate, and consolidate knowledge from which plans are made, actions determined and future decisions influenced regarding risk readiness and response.

The Chatham Homeland Security Program supports the Chatham Community Blueprint, a long-range community wide strategic plan ensuring all citizens achieve a superior quality of life within a safe, active and healthy environment. Local leadership has laid the groundwork for this initiative by aligning efforts with models spearheaded by National Police Foundation; Center for Mass Violence Response Studies to create a protected community in conjunction with initiatives that encourage residents to take part in maintaining safe environments.
BODY — Project Narrative

1. Needs Assessment

Over the last decade, persons motivated by a range of ideological beliefs and individual factors have engaged in acts of mass violence—incidents in which multiple innocent persons are killed or injured—in communities across the country. Mass violence attacks have increased in frequency and lethality. Such attacks are a concern for tourist-based destinations like Savannah, especially during nationally known celebrations like Savannah’s St Patrick’s Day festivities and during day-to-day economic activities stemming from the Port of Savannah. The effects of these attacks are devastating for the survivors, families of victims and survivors, communities, and first responders. For public safety officials, these mass violence incidents challenge emergency response protocols and demand actionable research, innovation, and science to inform prevention, response, and recovery.

To increase ability to identify and respond to risks of violence, Chatham County will establish a coordinated countywide multi-disciplinary Threat Assessment and Management (TAM) Network supported and enhanced by innovative technology to mitigate and respond to incidents of violence. Chatham County covers 632 square miles and is nestled on the Georgia coast along the South Carolina border. Its geographical location provides unique access to two major interstates, major rail lines, and shipping ports. Chatham County is the sixth largest of the State’s 159 counties with an estimated population of 291,560, per data from the 2019 U.S. Census Bureau.

Savannah, county seat and the largest city in Chatham County, is a charming Southern escape where art, period architecture, trendy boutiques and ghost stories are all set under a veil of Spanish moss. The tourism and hospitality industry continues to be one of the largest economic drivers for Savannah. In 2017, over 14.1 million visitors came to Savannah. Savannah has high tourism activity throughout the year; however, springtime brings the greatest influx as the city hosts the second largest St. Patrick’s Day festivities in the United States. Hundreds of thousands of people participate in the annual parade and enjoy the sites of the famous River Street. In addition to tourism, Chatham County supports great economic activity as the home to the Port of Savannah, the largest single-terminal container facilities in North America. The Port of Savannah is a major seaport in the United States and is located approximately eighteen miles upriver from the Atlantic Ocean. Operated by the Georgia Ports Authority (GPA), the port is comprised of two modern, deep-water terminals known as the Ocean Terminal and the Garden City Terminal. Considered the fastest-growing port in the nation, the port experiences 36 weekly vessel calls, more than any other container terminal on the U.S. East Coast.

As of 2018, the violent crime rate in Chatham County was 448 per 100,000 resident population for homicide, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault. While the trend of violent crime in Chatham County is trending down according to the American Community Survey (ACS), the platform and potential for a violent attack to occur still exists. Furthermore, Georgia’s County Health Ranking placed Chatham County at 43 out of 159 counties; taking into consideration health behaviors, clinical care, physical environment, social, and economic factors. This highlights some of our unfortunate increases in suicide-adjusted death rate (15 deaths per 100,000 residents) as well as opioid overdose (10.1 deaths per 100,000).

Creating a countywide task force such as the TAM Network, would provide increased security and protection for residents and tourists while providing economic protection to the County because a perceived lack of safety can be detrimental to all persons and industries. On February 1, 2018, Chatham County Police Department (CCPD) resumed policing responsibilities in Unincorporated Chatham County after 12 years of combined policing efforts under the Savannah-Chatham Metropolitan Police Department. (Savannah City Council voted to end contracted services effectively dissolving the joint police department.) The mission of CCPD is to provide excellence in police services while building partnerships with citizens in the community. CCPD is comprised of 125 sworn officers and 22 civilians covering Chatham County through its patrol division, criminal investigations division, forensics unit, neighborhood liaison officers, marine patrol unit, SWAT team (in conjunction with the Chatham County Sheriff’s Office), and a contingent assigned to the Chatham Counter Narcotics Team. Under the auspices of CCPD, the Marine Patrol and the Chatham County Aviation Unit along with SWAT team work collectively to provide public safety and in Chatham County, Georgia. The TAM Network fills a critical gap that has been identified through this policing transition and will increase communication for prevention of and responding to threats of terroristic events.

2. Program Design
While local public safety organizations work in partnership to reduce risk associated with violence and terrorism, Chatham County is not currently prepared to manage risk factors in a coordinated, countywide effort. With support from DHS, Chatham County will establish a coordinated Chatham County Homeland Security Program (CCHSP) inclusive of a countywide multi-disciplinary threat assessment and management network, supported and enhanced by innovative technology to mitigate and respond to incidents of violence. This countywide CCHSP approach would create the Threat Assessment and Management (TAM) Network. As outlined in the TVTP Grant Program Objectives, the project would “strengthen societal resistance” against terroristic acts, “ensure broad awareness of the threat of terrorism,” and “develop prevention frameworks” with partners to respond and mobile to risks. The TAM Network will have representatives from law enforcement, emergency management, public health, mental/behavioral health, juvenile justice, education, tourism, and community organizations. The Chatham County Homeland Security Program (CCHSP) supports the Chatham Community Blueprint, a long-range community wide strategic plan ensuring all citizens achieve a superior quality of life within a safe, active, and healthy environment. The CCHSP will connect and educate community stakeholders while building a countywide multi-disciplinary network focused on threat and risk mitigation. Local leadership has laid the groundwork for this initiative by aligning efforts with national models spearheaded by the National Police Foundation (NPF), advancing policing through innovation and science, along with state partners such as Georgia Homeland Security Agency, in partnership with private sector and faith-based community preventing and responding to natural and mad-made emergencies.

Under the direction of the Chatham County Police Department (CCPD) in partnership with the Chatham Emergency Management Agency (CEMA); the CCHSP initiative will have the following goals: (1) develop a sustainable countywide threat assessment and management network, (2) provide active shooter training and exercises, (3) develop and implement standardized violence and reporting protocols (4) assist agencies, residents, and businesses based in the community in connecting to a countywide emergency based information sharing and incident notification system. The CCHSP goals are derived from the FY20 TVTP priorities stating the need for programs focused on “establishing and enhancing local prevention frameworks with an emphasis on threat assessment and management capabilities”:

- Goal One: Develop a sustainable countywide threat assessment and management network. The primary objective for Goal 1 will be creating a TAM Network comprised from Chatham County organizations and industries that will work together to: (a) assess threats of potentially harmful and/or lethal behavior and determine the level of action required; (b) organize resources and strategies to manage threats that originate in schools recognizing the broader community implications for management and intervention; and, (c) enhance community physical and psychological safety. The creation of a countywide network builds on and strengthens the existing community-based processes by creating shared ownership and shared responsibility for threat assessment and intervention, standardizing threat and response protocols, and promoting countywide safety. The TAM Network will be comprised of a network of representatives from across the county including but not limited to the Chatham County Sheriff's Office, CCPD, CEMA, Savannah Area Chamber of Commerce-Tourism Leadership Council, Savannah-Hilton Head Airport, Savannah Police Department – Savannah Area Regional Intelligence Center, Georgia Ports Authority, Chatham County Juvenile Court, Savannah Chatham County Public School System, Coastal Health District, Chatham County Department of Family & Children Services, Coastal Georgia Indicators Coalition, Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, Georgia Department of Natural Resources, Georgia Southern University, Gateway Community Service Board, Hunter Army Airfield, Savannah State University, and United States Coast Guard.

The TAM network will offer hands-on facilitated scenario experiences through case studies led by the NPF. The TAM Network will work with participating agencies to standardize incidence and reporting protocols across the county and will utilize communication and reporting strategies already in place such as the Savannah-Chatham County Crime Stoppers and Swift Reach. The TAM Specialist will recruit TAM Network members from K-12 and collegiate educative facilities, community organizations, Tourism and Hospitality Industry, law enforcement, municipality personnel, and other prevention focused individuals with varied but complimentary skills and experience to accomplish a common goal; reducing threats in Chatham County. The TAM Network will have representatives from law enforcement, emergency management, public health, mental/behavioral health, juvenile justice, education, and community organizations. The network will work to manage the threat by identifying individual and or group’s that may pose a risk to themselves or others, discussing corrective action, and making appropriate and timely referrals; where law enforcement is the last resort. The TAM Specialist will guide recruitment, facilitate meetings with the network and the public, communicate to the network. The TAM Network will encourage collaboration and consolidate knowledge from which plans are made, actions determined and future decisions influenced.

- Goal Two: Increase awareness and competencies through multi-jurisdictional active shooter training sessions and exercises. Security measures must extend outside of law and municipality personnel to bystanders and general audiences, as they can prove essential in reporting suspicious or potentially suspicious behavior. These extra eyes on the scene are valuable when large events far exceed law enforcement personnel, such as the highly attended St Patrick’s Day Festival. The TAM Specialist will schedule quarterly training opportunities for all network members to include the eight municipal law enforcement agencies, mental/physical/behavioral health, tourism industry, faith based leaders, education, community based organizations and civic/social groups located in Chatham County; through an array of venues and formats. Some trainings may be virtual learning opportunities while others will be tabletop experiences so that members can begin to build capacity individually as well as a network. Training will be provided in partnership with the National Police Foundation (NPF), Center for Mass Violence Response Studies (CMVRS), Georgia Department of Homeland Security, and Georgia Public Safety Training Center ensuring officers receive POST certification when applicable. Chatham County will utilize the existing training curriculum of DHS and CMVRS that aims to enhance the ability of individuals to recognize signs of mobilization. Although a training calendar has not been created with specific courses, the network will gain knowledge on risk assessment, sharing of critical information, prevention framework, increase understanding of local resources, and appropriate response.

In January 2020, the NPF CMVRS facilitated a one-day training and discussion for more than 65 emergency management, first responders (law enforcement, fire, and EMS), dispatchers, and mental health and victim advocates from local, state, and federal stakeholders in Chatham County. The training provided attendees with important considerations, promising practices, and lessons learned from related threat assessment, planning and preparation, incident response, recovery and resilience from mass violence attacks. The CMVRS will build on this one-day training to provide expert technical assistance and training to assist Chatham County in the creation, implementation and operations of its countywide threat assessment and intervention team. Quarterly training sessions to TAM Network will include and expand upon NPF CMVRS topics of threat assessment & intervention; critical incident planning and preparation; incident response; and, resilience and recovery.

• Goal Three: Develop countywide standardized protocols and procedures regarding violent crime and reporting. CCPD currently has two Crime Analysts who are responsible for performing crime and intelligence analysis in support of the department’s criminal investigations functions and patrol operations. These individuals work in collaboration with the Savannah Area Regional Intelligence Center (SARIC). SARIC was created in 2007 with the mission to provide information about both short-term and long-term crime patterns and trends, and to support investigative efforts to identify suspects responsible for committing crimes. This unit is a mix of civilian and sworn staff working together across the Coastal Region to gather critical, real-time crime data and pattern information. Funding from DHS will allow another Crime Analyst to be hired and, shared with the TAM Network to support with strategic crime analyses and maintain the lines of communication to achieve crime reduction and suspect apprehension. As the TAM Network gains awareness and clarity on roles, there will be a need to develop standardized protocols for handling referrals and working with individuals with risk factors for targeted violence and all forms of ideologically motivated violence or terrorism. The network, under guidance of the TAM Specialist, will utilize and expand procedures and processes to ensure appropriate information is shared in a timely manner with the critical stakeholders. New protocols will be explored as the network partnerships are expanded and strengthened between criminal intelligence analyst with local law enforcement, schools, and providers. The Crime Analyst will be pivotal in protocol development.

• Goal Four: Increase community-based educative efforts to encourage reporting threats and violent crimes and spread awareness regarding risk readiness and response. The CCHSP project will serve as a platform to bring K-12, collegiate, tourist, and economic sectors together to learn and become engaged in the TAM Network and leverage these citizens in the countywide emergency based information sharing and incident notification system. Chatham County will expand informative efforts to include countywide residents, businesses, tourists, and educative facilities so they will have access to an anonymous reporting system for threats of potential violence. To assist in this effort, tools already in place will be pivotal; these tools include Crime Stoppers program, which began under the guidance of the Savannah Area Chamber of Commerce in 1999, and Swift Reach a notification system, which assists in communication dissemination after the crime, has occurred. In 2013, Crime Stoppers became a 501c3 with the mission of allowing an opportunity to provide information on crime and criminals anonymously, to award cash to individuals providing information that leads to arrest, to protect the anonymity of the tipster, and to improve the general quality of life. The Chatham County Internal Communication Services (ICS) operates Swift Reach an emergency communication tool and incident solution for emergency alerts and notifications to increase safety and information distribution during critical events. The system can be used for countywide events or limited to a specific geographical area, with notifications submitted through phone calls, text, and email. Threat assessment teams align with the main objective, to assist communities within Chatham County, the media and law enforcement, to work together to solve crimes. The TAM Specialist and other network members will work with Crime Stoppers to create an awareness campaign to increase anonymous calls while building on the relationship with SARIC for regional intelligence sharing among partners. Crime Stoppers will participate in the TAM Network to ensure appropriate information is collected and shared. The TAM Network will utilize Public Information Officers and relationships with local media outlets to develop a countywide awareness and education campaign ensuring all residents are knowledgeable of CCHSP, TAM, the newly combined efforts, and the reporting and notification process when needing assistance with solving a crime.

In funding of CCHSP and the TAM Network, the four project goals mentioned above will provide the following outcomes and impacts.

1) Develop and sustain the TAM Network as a local prevention framework that enhances the ability of partners to identify and respond to situations of risk and minimize violence.
2) Utilize the TAM Network to increase threat assessment and management services for each jurisdiction and agency within Chatham County.
3) Increase community programming to broaden reach and enhance resilience to violence and encouraging proper reporting protocols.
4) Conduct formative and summative evaluation to best direct programmatic efforts, while increasing efficacy of project effort.

Evaluation of the programmatic goals will be based on the following performance measures.
Goal 1 performance measures include the number of partners in the TAM Network, number of threats assessed, and population served by TAM Network.
Goal 2 performance measures include the number of trainings conducted, number of personnel and agencies trained, and increase comfort level with threat assessments and management services.
Goal 3 performance measures include the number of agencies involved in the information sharing, number of referrals, and number of identifications of at-risk persons.
Goal 4 performance measures will include the number of community engagement activities, number of agencies and individuals served by SwiftReach and Crime Stoppers.

The CCHSP Programmatic logic model is included with this proposal as a graphic. The graphic best details the program from the Needs Assessment through the programmatic learning and action-based Outcomes to the long-term Impacts. The model also presents the Inputs from the partnerships, technologies, and resources in place to the Outputs, which are the activities that will be conducted during the funding cycle.
Chatham County Homeland Security Program (CCHSP) Project Logic Model

NEEDS/PROBLEMS
- Hate rhetoric and actions directed at religious, marginalized, and minority populations

3. Organizational and Key Personnel

The project has three levels of competencies: fiscal responsibility, staffing, and evaluation. Fiscal Responsibility. Chatham County has extensive experience in managing federal grants among multiple agencies including a number of accountability courts (Drug, Veterans’, Mental Health and DUI) which rely on relationships between the members of the Criminal Justice community and Savannah’s services and non-profit sectors. Chatham County has extensive fiscal and administrative controls in fourteen different areas including allowed and un-allowed activities, allowable cost/cost principles, and cash managements to manage and approve the use of Federal funding. During the implementation process, as well as throughout the initiative, network members will explore diversification and sustainability opportunities including fundraising, additional grant-writing and creating permanently sustained positions.

Staffing: Chief Hadley took on the formidable task of building a 21st century law enforcement agency from scratch when he became the first chief of the newly re-organized Chatham County Police Department (CCPD) in December 2017. Building the department included hiring over 150 employees, developing policies and procedures, and upgrading facilities. During the first year in operation, the department undertook strong community policing efforts while answering more than 35,000 citizen calls for service. The Chief holds a Master’s Degree in Management from Indiana Wesleyan University, is a graduate of the 220th session of the FBI National Academy and the 48th session of the DEA Drug Unit Commanders Academy. Hadley led the Kalamazoo Department of Public Safety through a “mass violence” event, which occurred February 20, 2016. Chief Hadley has 29 years of experience in law enforcement and public safety, with 16 of those in senior level management. He brings a wealth of education, experience, and professionalism to this project.

Donald Sullens is the Assistant Director of Chatham Emergency Management Agency (CEMA) and is tasked with establishing a Homeland Security Division. Sullens has been with CEMA since 2007 and has served with the Savannah-Chatham Police Department. Sullens retired as a US Army Chief Warrant Officer after serving over 23 years in various assignments. He holds an Associate Degree from University of Maryland and a Bachelor’s Degree from University of the State of New York. Sullens will serve in partnership with Chief Hadley on this initiative.

Funds are being requested to support two positions for the two-year scope of this project; the TAM Specialist and a Crime Analyst for the CCHSP. The TAM Specialist will oversee the day-to-day operations and ensure ongoing compliance with DHS programmatic and financial requirements. The Crime Analyst will be pivotal in bridging information and communication strategies across law enforcement agencies and technologies as it specifically relates to violent crime and situations of risk.

Evaluation. The National Police Foundation (NPF), Center for Mass Violence Response Studies (CMVRS), will be contracted through grant funding to collect and analyze data to satisfy the reporting metrics for this project. The NPF is the oldest nationally known, nonprofit (501c3), nonpartisan, and non-membership-driven organization dedicated to improving American policing. In addition to designing, conducting, and evaluating controlled experiments, NPF provides a range of services to local law enforcement agencies, including training and technical assistance and management analyses and planning with the purpose of increasing efficacy of police in deterring crime, improving relationships between the police and the communities they serve, or responding to mass casualty incidents.

The CMVRS, a NPF program, will conduct the evaluation of CCHSP TAM efforts. The evaluation will include both process and outcome components to ensure sustainability. Efforts will continually monitor and improve the program to have the greatest impact on the community. The process evaluation will focus on document review, meeting minutes, review of processes, and engagement of network members. Outcome evaluation efforts will focus on changes in policy and procedures with the implementation of countywide standardized protocols.

Implementation and Measurement plans for Year 1 and Year 2 are included with this proposal. During Year 1, the project will focus on establishing the CCHSP by identifying countywide partners through obtaining formal memoranda of understandings, developing the TAM Network's structure and ways to approach efforts through evaluating current procedures and identifying current processes. Work on development of the CCHSP standardized protocols will begin in Year 1 along with identification of bystander and community entities to include in the TAM Network. Mid-Year 1 and into Year 2, the training sessions will occur. These sessions will provide data on those that attend, pre knowledge on crime and reporting that can be compared to post knowledge. Through varied formats, the project personnel intend to reach wide and varied audiences to increase the broader impact of this grant. During Year 2, focus will shift from establishing the program and TAM Network, to sustaining operations of the CCHSP and TAM Network. During the second year, the Crime Analyst and TAM Specialist will look into metrics of crime reporting to see if shifts have occurred in the number of cases opened, case status data, use of Hotline, number of referrals for outside services, and case

4. Sustainability
Chatham County will be accountable for ensuring the continuation of CCHSP and threat assessments by creating a sustainability plan in partnership with the varied agencies involved in the program. It is anticipated that the two positions funded through this initial two-year program, will continue through shared contractual support from all jurisdictions. Such support is common in Chatham County as the Narcotics Team is supported across multiple municipalities. Fiscally, the salary load is determined by the size of the municipality, which benefits many of the smaller cities within Chatham County. Not only will multi-jurisdictional support assist in sustaining these critical TAM network personnel, the fiscal and jurisdictional overlay provides these personnel with abilities to address issues and to assist on a countywide scale since their scope of work extends to all municipalities and across many agencies. Other needs of the two personnel, such as sharing staff, sharing administrative space and expanding training capacity will be possible through the multiple partners to maintain and extend our impact in this community.

5. Budget Detail and Narrative
Chatham County’s project aligned with the Local Prevention Framework Track to develop prevention framework with partners to enhance their ability to identify and respond to individuals at risk of mobilizing to violence. Therefore, our budget request includes expenses associated with (a) threat assessment and management teams, (b) bystander training, and (c) reporting hotlines. A breakdown for each component could be provided upon request.

Chatham County Implementation and Measurement Plan
OTVTP Implementation & Measurement Plan

You should modify the Implementation & Measurement Plan (IMP) template to the number of outcomes your specific project requires. For each outcome in the IMP, create an Implementation Plan table and a Measurement Plan table. Please use the definitions provided in the IMP guidance document when crafting your plan. Draft, in the box below, the overarching goal statement for the project. Following completion of the IMP, each grantee is expected to complete the Risk Assessment & Mitigation Plan in Appendix A.

In the Implementation Plan table:
  - Type each activity in a separate row; add as many rows as needed.
  - Arrange activity rows chronologically by the start date of the activity.
  - This IMP should span both years of performance under this grant program.

In the Measurement Plan table:
  - Type each outcome indicator in a separate row.
  - Include indicators that will help measure the results of the project; it is not necessary to have more than one indicator if that indicator sufficiently measures results.
  - Identify and/or design data collection methods to be used to obtain the data that will be reported on quarterly.
  - Ensure attention to collection of data that can be broken down by sex and age of project participants or beneficiaries.

NOTE: Data collection methods should be specific and timebound. Any expenses incurred from the collection of data must come from the grant already awarded. No additional funds will be made available by DHS for this purpose.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Police Foundation is pleased to submit this letter in support of Chatham County’s application to the Office for Targeted Violence and Terrorism Prevention in response to the above referenced solicitation to support the implementation of the Countywide Threat Assessment and Management (TAM) Network. The TAM Network aims to develop and implement a sustainable and standardized series of preparedness, management, and response protocols that are supported and enhanced by innovative technology to mitigate and respond to targeted violence and terrorism.

The Police Foundation’s mission is to advance policing through innovation and science. We are the oldest nationally-known, nonprofit, non-partisan, and non-membership-driven organization dedicated to improving America’s most noble profession—policing. In 2018, the Foundation established the Center for Mass Violence Response Studies (CMVRS) to bring public safety, government, school, and other leaders together to think critically about the challenges posed by mass casualty events and to develop comprehensive policies and practices to prevent, respond to, and recover from them. The CMVRS has conducted in-depth after-action studies of the San Bernardino (CA) and Pulse nightclub (FL) terrorist attacks; a mass shooting in Kalamazoo (MI); and school shootings at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School (FL) and the University of North Carolina-Charlotte. In addition to these studies, the CMVRS also developed and administers the Averted School Violence database, which captures and shares lessons learned from prevented school attacks, providing empirical data upon which to develop and implement policies and practices to improve the safety and security of our educational institutions.

If this proposal is funded, Chief (ret.) Frank Straub, PhD, Director of the CMVRS, will be our project lead and will work closely with Chatham County to provide training, technical assistance, and subject matter expertise and implement the project as proposed.
