The National Threat Evaluation and Reporting (NTER) Master Trainer Program (MTP) certifies Federal, State, Local, Tribal, and Territorial (F/SLTT) partners in the instruction of Behavioral Threat Assessment and Management (BTAM) techniques and best practices. This train-the-trainer program prepares Certified Master Trainers to empower their local communities and organizations to mitigate threats and prevent acts of targeted violence.

To become a Certified Master Trainer, you must meet the below qualifications:

Minimum Qualifications
- Current employee of a F/SLTT agency
- Minimum of two years experience in a field related to public safety
- Participation in MTP endorsed by supervisor

Preferred Qualifications
- Supervisory or senior employee of a F/SLTT agency
- Professional or academic experience in targeted violence prevention or BTAM
- Professional experience in the vetting of tips and leads
- Certified Instructor/Trainer

The national network of Certified Master Trainers has access to key BTAM resources, including certification, training and continuing education, and program support. Master Trainer candidates begin the certification process by attending the Instructor-Development Threat Evaluation and Reporting Course (ID-TERC).

WHO TO CONTACT
Interested in applying to be a NTER Master Trainer? Want to learn more about this opportunity? Please contact NTER.MTP@hq.dhs.gov
The ID-TERC is a four-day in-person training exclusively available for those accepted into the MTP.

This course prepares Master Trainer candidates to utilize a four-step model - identify, investigate, assess, and manage - to teach behavioral threat assessment and management (BTAM) best practices to partners in their communities and organizations.

NTER reimburses Master Trainer candidates for all costs associated with the ID-TERC, including:

- Lodging
- Per Diem
- Travel Expenses

TERC Training Suite

Certified Master Trainers are granted access to exclusive NTER training resources and materials. Master Trainers are empowered to use and adapt these materials to teach the courses outlined below to partners in their communities.
