Executive Summary

The Department of Homeland Security Privacy Office (PRIV)¹ is pleased to issue its Fiscal Year (FY) 2022 Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) report. In the last year, the Department set new records and reached significant milestones in making its FOIA program more efficient, and in enhancing transparency and accountability across the Department. The Privacy Office remains committed to continuing these efforts during FY 2023.

In FY 2022, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) set new records for the number of FOIA requests received and processed. Overall, DHS received more than 542,000 FOIA requests and processed more than 500,000 requests. DHS increased the number of requests processed in FY 2022 by almost 40,000 compared to FY 2021 –a testament to the hard work of the dedicated DHS FOIA staff.

DHS ended FY 2022 with a backlog of 52,137 requests. Notably, the DHS backlog corresponds to less than 10 percent of the total number of requests received in FY 2022. The backlog increase is concentrated primarily at U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), the Privacy Office, and U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). These FOIA processing centers regularly receive a large volume of requests.

In response to the surge in requests received in FY 2022, the DHS FOIA staff engaged in tremendous collaboration and coordination to provide strong customer service to the requester community. For example, ICE and USCIS continued an agreement that streamlined the experience for individuals seeking personal immigration-related files, and the United States Secret Service (USSS) assisted with reviewing and closing backlogged cases for USCIS. Additionally, the Privacy Office provided direct assistance to CBP and USCIS to close backlog cases and assisted with moving cases more efficiently through the FOIA process.

The Privacy Office also made strides to modernize the Department's FOIA information technology infrastructure and other strategic investments to eliminate the DHS backlog. The Privacy Office coordinated with the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) to launch a new FOIA processing system that better serves the Department's complex FOIA processing needs. This system, which will be used by 12 DHS FOIA processing centers,² includes state-of-the-art tools to improve efficiency, collaboration, and oversight. Beyond this important overhaul, the Privacy Office also: collaborated with the OCIO to streamline its monthly oversight reporting system provided expanded training opportunities and issued targeted guidance; structured its contracts to reduce FOIA administrative overhead for DHS FOIA processing centers; and centralized FOIA processing responsibilities through structured agreements.

The Acting Chief Privacy and Chief FOIA Officer is committed to continuing to mature the Department's FOIA program and expanding the Department's capacity to deliver transparency and accountability to the people we serve. The Privacy Office will continue to oversee and assist DHS FOIA processing centers and agencies to enhance operations and increase compliance with the FOIA.

² The Privacy Office maintains the FOIA processing system used by all components except USSS and USCIS. In FY 2023, CBP and the Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers will begin to use the new FOIA processing system.

II. Making a FOIA Request³

1. Names, addresses, and contact numbers for DHS FOIA Officers can be found on our website at <http://www.dhs.gov/foia-contact-information>.

2. Brief description of why requests may not be granted:

In response to a FOIA request, DHS may determine that the responsive records are exempt from disclosure, in whole or in part, or that the requested record does not exist or cannot be located. For example, the Department frequently receives requests for law enforcement records, which are of specific interest to potential subjects of investigation, victims of crime, and the public. Depending on who is requesting the information (i.e., a first or third-party requester) the Department may invoke FOIA exemptions 6 and 7(C) (to prevent an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy) and/or exemption 7(E) (to protect against the disclosure of law enforcement techniques, procedures, and guidelines).

2. Definition of terms, as used in this report:

- a. Administrative Appeal – A request to a federal agency asking that it review at a higher administrative level a FOIA determination made by the agency at the initial request level. Under section 704 of the Administrative Procedures Act, the Department’s response to an administrative appeal is considered final agency action that is then appealable to a federal district court.
- b. Backlog – The number of requests or administrative appeals that are pending at an agency at the end of the fiscal year that are beyond the statutory time period for a response.

⁴ FPS is an operational component within the DHS Management Directorate that provides law enforcement and security services to approximately 9,000 federal facilities nationwide.

- c. Consultation – The procedure whereby the agency responding to a FOIA request first forwards a record to another agency for its review because that other agency has an interest in the document. Once the agency in receipt of the consultation finishes its review of the record, it provides its views on the record to the agency that forwarded it. That agency, in turn, will then respond to the FOIA requester.
- d. Exemption 3 Statute – A federal statute other than FOIA that exempts information from disclosure and which the agency relies on to withhold information under subsection (b)(3) of the FOIA.⁵
- e. FOIA Processing Center - For agencies that process requests on a decentralized basis, a “processing center” is an entity, also sometimes referred to as an Office, Division, Bureau, Center, or Directorate, within the agency that processes FOIA requests. The FOIA now requires that agencies include in the Annual FOIA Report data for both the agency overall and for each principal processing center of the agency.
- f. FOIA Request – A FOIA request is generally a request to a federal agency for access to records concerning another person (in other words, a “third-party” request), an organization, or a particular topic of interest. Moreover, because requesters covered by the Privacy Act who seek records concerning themselves (in other words, “first-party” requesters) are afforded the benefit of the access provisions of both FOIA and the Privacy Act, the term “FOIA request” also includes any such “first-party” requests when an agency determines that it must search beyond its Privacy Act “systems of records” or when the agency applies a Privacy Act exemption and therefore looks to FOIA to afford the greatest possible access. DHS applies this same interpretation of the term “FOIA request” even to “first-party” requests from persons not covered by the Privacy Act, e.g., non-U.S. citizens. Because DHS policy provides non-U.S. citizens the ability to access their own records as if they are subject to the Privacy Act’s access provisions, DHS processes the requests under FOIA as well. Thus, all requests that require DHS to utilize FOIA in responding to the requester are included in this Report.

Additionally, a FOIA request includes records referred to DHS for processing and direct response to the requester. It does not, however, include records for which the agency has received a consultation from another agency. (Consultations are reported separately in Section XII of this Report.)

- g. Full Grant – An agency decision to disclose all records in full in response to a FOIA request.
- h. Full Denial – An agency decision not to release any records in response to a FOIA request because the records are exempt in their entirety under one or more of the FOIA exemptions, or because of a procedural reason, such as when no records could be located.

- i. Multi-Track Processing – A system in which simple requests requiring relatively minimal review are placed in one processing track and more voluminous and complex requests are placed in one or more other tracks. Requests granted expedited processing are placed in yet another track. Requests in each track are processed on a first-in/first-out basis.
 - i. Expedited Processing – An agency will process a FOIA request on an expedited basis when a requester satisfies the requirements for expedited processing as set forth in the statute and in agency regulations.
 - ii. Simple Request – A FOIA request that an agency using multi-track processing places in its fastest (non-expedited) track based on the volume and/or simplicity of records requested.
 - iii. Complex Request – A FOIA request that an agency using multi-track processing places in a slower track based on the high volume and/or complexity of the records requested.
- j. Partial Grant/Partial Denial – An agency decision to disclose portions of the records and to withhold other portions that are exempt under the FOIA, or to otherwise deny a portion of the request for a procedural reason.
- k. Pending Request or Pending Administrative Appeal – A pending request is one where the agency has not yet provided a response to the requester. A pending administrative appeal is where one where the agency has not taken final action in all respects.
- l. Perfect Request – A request for records that reasonably describes such records and is made in accordance with published rules stating the time, place, fees (if any), and procedures to be followed.
- m. Processed Request or Processed Administrative Appeal – A processed request is one where the agency has provided a complete response to the requester’s initial request. A processed administrative appeal is one where the agency has advised the requester of its final decision on the requester’s appeal as to the handling of the initial request.
- n. Range in Number of Days – The lowest and highest number of days required to process requests or administrative appeals.
- o. Time Limits – The time period in the statute for an agency to respond to a FOIA request (ordinarily 20 working days from receipt of a perfected FOIA request).⁶

⁶ Absent “unusual circumstances,” the FOIA provides that agencies should make a determination with respect to an appeal within twenty working-days of its receipt by the agency. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(A)(ii).

3. Concise descriptions of FOIA exemptions:

- a. Exemption 1: classified national defense and foreign relations information.
- b. Exemption 2: internal agency rules and practices (personnel).
- c. Exemption 3: information that is prohibited from disclosure by another federal law.
- d. Exemption 4: trade secrets and other confidential or financial information obtained from a person.
- e. Exemption 5: inter-agency or intra-agency communications that are protected by legal privileges, such as the deliberative process privilege, attorney work product privilege, and attorney client privilege.
- f. Exemption 6: information that, if released, would be a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.
- g. Exemption 7: law enforcement records where the disclosure would A) interfere with enforcement proceedings, B) deprive a person of a fair trial or impartial adjudication, C) constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, D) identify a confidential source, E) disclose law enforcement techniques and procedures or guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or F) endanger the life or physical safety of any individual.
- h. Exemption 8: information relating to the supervision of financial institutions.
- i. Exemption 9: geological/geophysical information concerning wells.

APPENDIX A: Composition of the Department of Homeland Security

Missions:

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has six overarching homeland security missions: to counter terrorism and enhance security, secure and manage our borders while facilitating trade and travel, enforce and administer our immigration laws, safeguard and secure cyberspace, build resilience to disasters, and provide essential support for national and economic security. DHS carries out these missions in coordination with federal, state, local, international, tribal, and private sector partners.

Offices:

The Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (CRCL) provides policy advice to Department leadership on civil rights and civil liberties issues, investigates and resolves complaints, and provides leadership to Equal Employment Opportunity Programs.

The Office of the Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman (Ombudsman) is dedicated to improving the quality of citizenship and immigration services delivered to the public by providing individual case assistance, as well as making recommendations to improve the administration of immigration benefits by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).

The Office of the Executive Secretary (ESEC) provides all manner of direct support to the Secretary and Deputy Secretary, as well as related support to leadership and management across the Department.

The Office of the General Counsel (OGC) integrates over 2,500 attorneys from throughout the Department into an effective, client-oriented, full-service legal team. The Office of the General Counsel comprises a headquarters office with subsidiary divisions and the legal offices for nine Department components.

The Office of the Immigration Detention Ombudsman (OIDO) examines immigration detention to promote safe and humane conditions. The Office assists individuals with complaints about the potential violation of immigration detention standards or misconduct by DHS or contract personnel. OIDO provides independent oversight of immigration detention facilities—including conducting announced and unannounced inspections and reviewing contract terms for immigration detention facilities and services—and tracks trends and systemic issues across facilities.

The Joint Requirements Council (JRC) validates capability gaps, associated with operational requirements and proposed solution approaches to mitigate those gaps through the Joint Requirements Integration and Management System, leveraging opportunities for commonality to enhance operational effectiveness directly and better inform the DHS's main investment pillars.

The Office of Legislative Affairs (OLA) serves as the primary liaison to members of Congress and their staffs, the White House and Executive Branch, and to other federal agencies and governmental entities that have roles in assuring national security.

The Military Advisor provides counsel and support to the Secretary and Deputy Secretary in affairs relating to policy, procedures, preparedness activities, and operations between DHS and the Department of Defense.

The Office of Partnership and Engagement (OPE) is the headquarters-level organization that through a unified approach to external engagement provides the Secretary with current unfettered information on the impact of the Department's policies, regulations, processes, and actions on state, local, tribal, territorial governments, elected officials, law enforcement, the private sector, and faith-based and non-governmental organizations across the United States and globally.

The Privacy Office (PRIV) sets privacy and FOIA policy for the Department. It also works to preserve and enhance privacy protections for all individuals and to promote transparency in the Department's operations.

The Office of Public Affairs (OPA) coordinates the public affairs activities of all of the Department's components and offices and serves as the federal government's lead public information office during a national emergency or disaster.

The Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans (PLCY) serves as a central resource to the Secretary and other Department leaders for strategic planning and analysis, and facilitation of decision-making on the full breadth of issues that may arise across the dynamic homeland security enterprise.

Operational and Support Components:

U. S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) is one of the Department of Homeland Security's largest and most complex components. It has responsibility for securing and facilitating trade and travel while enforcing hundreds of U.S. laws and regulations, including those encompassing customs, immigration, border security, and agricultural protection.

The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) leads the national effort to defend critical infrastructure against the threats of today while working with partners across all levels of government and in the private sector to secure against the evolving risks of tomorrow.

Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction Office (CWMD) works to prevent attacks against the United States using a weapon of mass destruction through timely, responsive support to operational partners. CWMD leads DHS efforts and coordinates with domestic and international partners to safeguard the United States against chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear, and health security threats.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) supports state, local, tribal, and territorial partners to ensure we work together to help people before, during, and after disasters.

The Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers (FLETC) provides career-long training to law enforcement professionals to help them fulfill their responsibilities safely and proficiently.

The Office of Intelligence and Analysis (I&A) equips the Homeland Security Enterprise with the timely intelligence and information it needs to keep the homeland safe, secure, and resilient.

U. S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) promotes homeland security and public safety through the criminal and civil enforcement of federal laws governing border control, customs, trade, and immigration.

The Management Directorate (MGMT) is responsible for budget, appropriations, expenditure of funds, accounting and finance; procurement; human resources and personnel; information technology systems; facilities, property, equipment, and other material resources; providing biometric identification services; and identification and tracking of performance measurements relating to the responsibilities of the Department.

- Federal Protective Service (FPS) is an operational component within the DHS Management Directorate that provides law enforcement and security services to approximately 9,000 federal facilities nationwide.
- The Office of Biometric Identity Management (OBIM) operates within the DHS Management Directorate and provides biometric identity services to DHS Components, the Departments of Defense, Justice, and State, state, local, tribal, and territorial entities, the Intelligence Community, and international mission partners.

The Office of Situational Awareness (OSA) provides daily information to the Secretary of Homeland Security, senior leaders, and the homeland security enterprise to enable decision-making; oversees the National Operations Center; and leads the Department's Continuity of Operations and Government Programs to enable the continuation of primary mission essential functions in the event of a degraded or crisis operating environment.

The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) protects the nation's transportation systems to ensure freedom of movement for people and commerce.

The United States Coast Guard (USCG) is one of the six armed forces of the United States and the only military organization within the Department of Homeland Security. The USCG protects the maritime economy and the environment, defends our maritime borders, and saves those in peril.

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) administers the nation's lawful immigration system, safeguarding its integrity and promise by efficiently and fairly adjudicating requests for immigration benefits while protecting Americans, securing the homeland, and honoring our values.

The Science and Technology Directorate (S&T) is the primary research and development arm of the Department. It provides federal, state, and local officials with the technology and capabilities to protect the homeland.

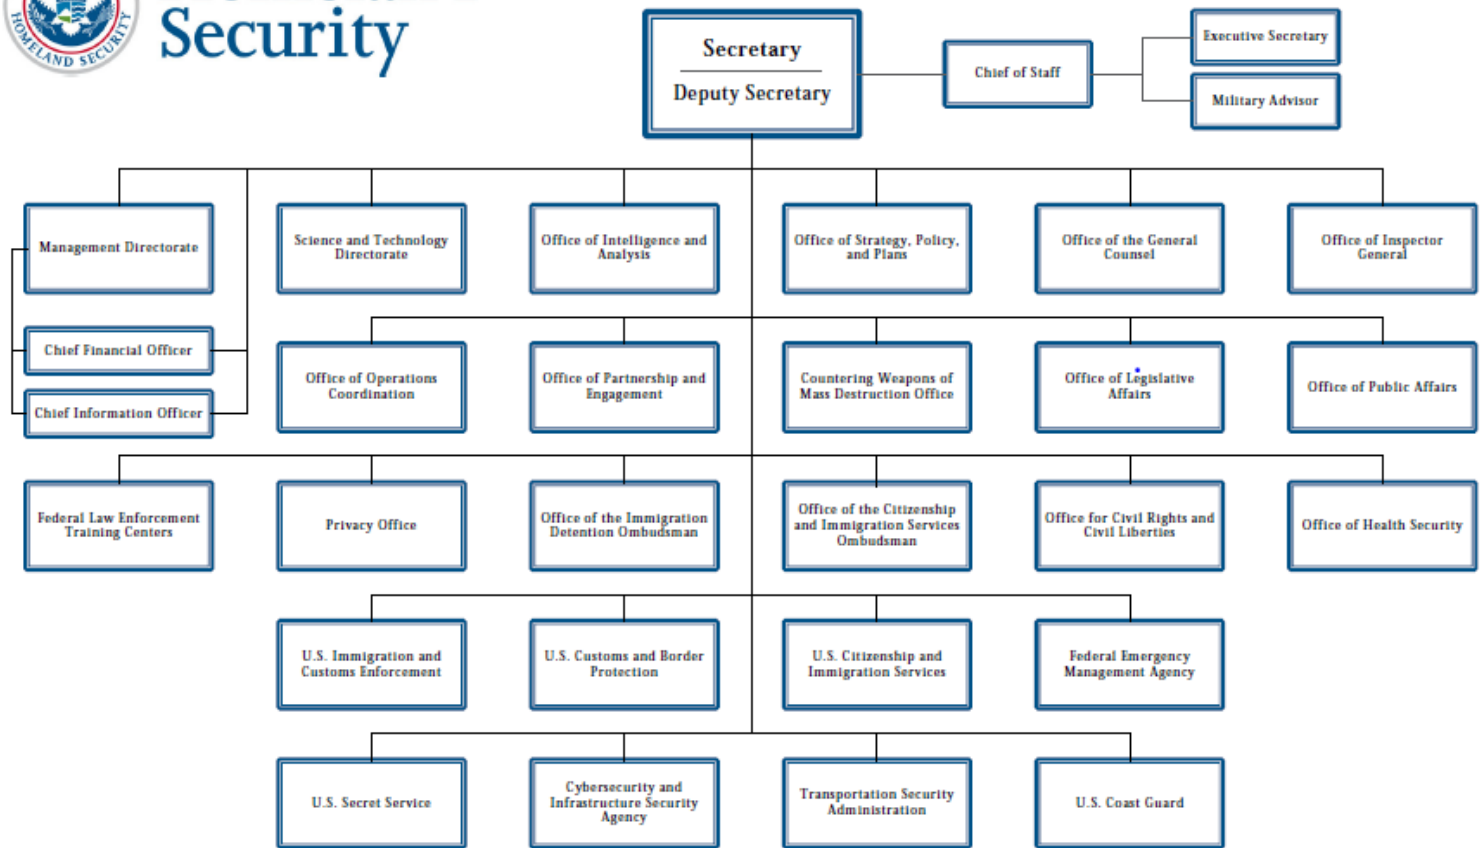

The United States Secret Service (USSS) safeguards the nation's financial infrastructure and payment systems to preserve the integrity of the economy, and protects national leaders, visiting heads of state and government, designated sites, and National Special Security Events.
