

NATIONAL THREAT EVALUATION AND REPORTING OFFICE

Threat Identification & Mitigation Trainings

As the threat landscape continues to evolve, the National Threat Evaluation and Reporting (NTER) Office empowers our homeland security partners to adapt to new threats and prevent terrorism and targeted violence. NTER provides online training and digital resources helping build partners' capacity to identify and report suspicious or potentially concerning behaviors and prevent violent attacks.

Foundations of Targeted Violence Prevention eLearning

This one-hour training empowers community members to:

- Recognize threats or potentially concerning behaviors;
- Understand the importance of reporting to keep communities safe; and
- Learn where to report threats or potentially concerning behaviors.

<https://www.dhs.gov/foundations-targeted-violence-prevention>

Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR) Fundamentals eLearning

This one-hour interactive overview of the Nationwide SAR Initiative (NSI) outlines:

- The evaluation process used to determine whether suspicious behaviors meet NSI reporting standards; and
- The process for protecting individuals' privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties.

<https://www.dhs.gov/form/nsi/nter>

SAR Online Trainings

These 45-minute sector specific trainings are designed for homeland security partners to:

- Identify and report behaviors and indicators that may indicate terrorism-related criminal activity; and
- Assist in protecting individuals' privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties.

<https://www.dhs.gov/nationwide-sar-initiative-nsi/online-sar-training>

These publicly available trainings contain information relevant to the following sectors

- Community Members
- First Responders
- Public Safety Professionals
- School Safety Officials
- Workplace Violence Prevention Teams
- Private Security Staff
- Public Health and Health Care Partners

Contact Us

For additional information on NTER Office initiatives, please visit www.dhs.gov/nter or email NTER@hq.dhs.gov.

