20	TSA	Security Operations - Assistant Federal Security Director for Inspections (AFSD-I) Summit	September 17, 2024	September 19, 2024	Springfield, VA	The goal of the summit is to ensure all AFSD-Is are offered the opportunity to receive simultaneous updates on training, policy and guidance, cybersecurity, infrastructure, hiring, staffing and scheduling, resource allocations and budget, leadership development, and senior leadership syncs. The summit provides an opportunity for personnel from TSA headquarters and field to engage together with peers and intra-agency partners who develop and deliver policy, guidance, and training. This engagement allows TSA headquarters leadership to provide field leadership with an overview of security policy and guidance direction within the United States, solicit feedback and concerns, and identify relevant action items to address, as appropriate. The summit also supports compliance objectives and goals that Security Operations pillars share, as well as promote a greater understanding of relevant TSA-led security requirements for operations between our respective employee bases. The event also seeks to improve channels of communication between headquarters and field employees.	Counter Terrorism and Homeland Security Threats	The program office followed contracting procedures of TSA's Contracting and Procurement Office for this event.	$ 111,112	85
21	TSA	Security Operations - International Training Symposium	June 11, 2024	June 13, 2024	Las Vegas, NV	The International Training Symposium is the first of its kind, and is a collaborative effort with TSA's Training and Development and International Operations offices that brings all 27 TSA Representatives (TSARs) and 4 Regional Directors (RDs) together with aviation partners from around the world, to hear from leading experts in aviation security training. The TSAR is the TSA's front line representative with international stakeholders charged with promoting consistency between international security standards, foreign government requirements, and TSA regulatory programs. However, TSARs are rarely afforded the opportunity to meet with industry and government partners in person to discuss international best practices and participate in an exchange of knowledge in a dynamic and collaborative environment to enhance global aviation security training. This event is in line with the Department of Homeland Security and TSA's strategic mission.	Counter Terrorism and Homeland Security Threats	The program office followed contracting procedures of TSA's Contracting and Procurement Office for this event.	$ 201,129	79
22	TSA	Security Operations - Scheduling Operations Officer (SOO) Conference	June 25, 2024	June 27, 2024	Orlando, FL	The SOO Conference allows for the collaboration and discussion of a variety of complex issues as it relates to staffing and budgetary concerns and processes. The SOOs provides with an overview of Security Operations (SO) Division functions that creates in-depth discussions concerning processes that directly relate to their daily roles and responsibilities. SOOs also provide with a comprehensive focus on the Enhanced Staffing Model (ESM) which highlights the distinction between models created for budget purposes and those created for real-life staffing. Modeling strategies for shift bids and future-state scenarios is shared for SOOs to utilize in their operations. The intent of this conference is to allow field schedulers to socialize best practices on a variety of issues, interact with Headquarters subject matter experts, and take home lessons learned to implement into their operations. 24	USCG	CG Senior Executive Accountability and Transparency (ATR) Review	February 6, 2024	February 9, 2024	Washington, DC	The Accountability and Transparency Review (ATR) analyzed current law, policy, processes, practices, resources, and Service culture relevant to preventing and responding to sexual assault and harassment as well as other harmful behaviors in the Coast Guard. This effort identified areas for organizational improvement in order to ensure a culture of accountability and transparency throughout the Service. After reviewing the Accountability and Transparency report, the Coast Guard Commandant directed a holistic approach to addressing the issues identified. One key action item is to convene a Senior Executive ATR implementation summit to review critical actions and hold in-person bystander intervention training. This summit entails policy discussions, presentations, case studies and out-briefs. The purpose of this summit is to ensure Senior Executive visibility of all ATR action items, affirm their role in implementation, deliver Commandant expectations of the Service, and to facilitate the ability of Senior Executives to personally champion bystander intervention training. The Coast Guard contracts Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network (RAINN) to help facilitate this summit; RAINN is the nation's largest anti-sexual violence organization.	Strengthen Preparedness and Resilience	USCG utilized procedures and authorities provided through the government Simplified Acquisitions Procedures process and IAW DHS conference policy.	$ 113,549	101
25	USCG	Coast Guard 2023 Fall Senior Leadership Conference	October 31, 2023	November 3, 2023	Washington, DC	The Fall 2023 SLC is a continuation of the Commandant's efforts to lead the service through her strategic initiatives which are executed through the combined leadership of the Coast Guard Flag Officer Corps, Senior Executives, and the Senior Enlisted Leaders. The goal of this conference is to continue our review of the Service in order to identify key actions needed to push forward on Coast Guard and DHS Strategic Goals. Senior leaders provide critical briefs and presentations on the progression of efforts to meet the goals set forth in the commandant's strategic plan. Senior leaders also present and discuss current and future challenges as the service looks to maximize readiness, address the nation's maritime challenges, and manage national defense and budget implications.	Strengthen Preparedness and Resilience	USCG utilized procedures and authorities provided through the government Simplified Acquisitions Procedures process and IAW DHS conference policy.	$ 116,569	110
26	USCG	Sector Commanders Conference 2024	January 22, 2024	January 26, 2024	Nashville, TN	This conference provides the opportunity for in person workshop including the senior Sector Commander Instructor from CG Training Center Yorktown, 37 CG Sector Commanders, 02 Marine Safety Unit (MSU) and 02 Activity Commanding Officers at the O-6 level. Throughout the workshop, Shore Forces leadership discuss policy, capability, and program shortfalls. The workshop is focused on efficiency, transparency and sharing of best practices. The workshop also features group sessions comprised of subject matter experts to discuss, draft, and recommend an action plan with the steps necessary to close identified gaps and eliminate program inefficiencies. The conference facilitates discussions between Area/District/Sector SMEs along with CGHQ Program Managers to address pending issues and capability gaps that effect all 11 mission areas of the Coast Guard being performed by Shore Forces units. The Sector Commander's Conference has convened annually for the past 15 years, with the exception of 2020, and has proven more effective and valuable than non travel based methods.
