

---

The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

---

Committee Member Biography The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

Raymond P. Dolan
President and Chief Executive Officer
Sonus Networks

Mr. Raymond P. Dolan is the president, chief executive officer (CEO), and member of the board of directors of Sonus Networks. He has held these positions since 2010. Mr. Dolan has extensive experience in technology development, field operations, marketing, and general management in the wireless industry. Prior to joining Sonus, Mr. Dolan was CEO of Qualcomm/Flarion Technologies and senior vice president of Qualcomm from 2006 to 2010. Before Qualcomm's acquisition of Flarion Technologies in 2006, he served as the CEO and chairman of the board of Flarion Technologies. Before Flarion, Mr. Dolan worked as the COO at NextWave Telecom and held various leadership positions at BellAtlantic/NYNEX Mobile. He is currently a member of the board of directors for the American Tower Corporation. Mr. Dolan also served more than seven years as a tactical jet pilot in the U.S. Marine Corps. He holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the U.S. Naval Academy and a master's degree in business administration from the Columbia University School of Business.

