

The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

Committee Member Biography

The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

Renée J. James
President
Intel Corp.

Renée J. James is President of Intel Corporation and is a member of the company's two person Executive Office.

Previously, she was executive vice president and the general manager of the software and services group; vice president for developer programs; and director and COO of Intel Online Services. She was also part of the pioneering team working with independent software vendors to port applications to Intel Architecture, and served as chief of staff for former Intel CEO Andy Grove. She joined Intel through the company's acquisition of Bell Technologies.

Ms. James serves as a non-executive director on the Vodafone Group Plc. board of directors and is a member of the Remuneration Committee. For seven years, she served as independent director on the VMware Inc. board and was a member of the Audit Committee. Additionally, Ms. James is a member of the C200. She holds both bachelor and master's degrees in business administration from the University of Oregon.