

The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

Committee Member Biography The President's National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee

Maggie Wilderotter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
Frontier Communications Corp.

Ms. Maggie Wilderotter joined Frontier Communications in 2004 as president, CEO, and a member of the board of directors, and was appointed chairman and CEO in 2006. From 2002 to 2004, Ms. Wilderotter served as senior vice president of the worldwide public sector for Microsoft. Ms. Wilderotter also served as executive vice president of national operations for AT&T Wireless Services; CEO of AT&T's aviation communications division; and a senior vice president of McCaw Cellular Communications.

Ms. Wilderotter serves on the boards of Xerox Corporation and Procter & Gamble Company as well as non-profit organizations, including The Committee of 200 and Catalyst. Since 2009, she has been recognized in FORTUNE's ranking of the "50 Most Powerful Women in Business." In December 2012, she was named to the Executive Committee of the Business Roundtable, an association of CEOs of leading U.S. companies. Ms. Wilderotter holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Holy Cross College.