Medical Supplies

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) established a Blanket Purchase Agreement (BPA) for Medical Supplies to procure medical items at prices that leverage spend volume for all of DHS. These medical supplies are used by personnel to train for and perform medical treatments, tests, and operations. These supplies are used in situations such as pre-hospital treatment and emergency medical services, oftentimes in austere or remote environments.

To streamline offerings and ensure lower prices, products are grouped into three categories:

- Category 1: General Medical Supplies; includes items for IV/Maintenance, Medication Administration, Medical Supplies and Equipment for Austere Environments, Trauma Management, Splinting/Immobilization, Operational Medical Supplies and Equipment, Respiratory Management, Cardiology, Personnel Protective Equipment (PPE), and Training Materials
- Category 2: AEDs/Heart Monitors with accessories
- Category 3: Medical Supply Kits: includes Emergency Medical Responder (EMR) Bag (First Responder), EMR Bag Refill, Individual First Aid Kit (IFAK), and Basic Life Support (BLS) (Medical Backpack)
