I. Purpose

This Directive establishes Planning, Programming, Budgeting, and Execution (PPBE) as the system through which the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) integrates key functions to effectively manage the Department. This is accomplished through setting strategic planning goals and priorities, engaging in programming analyses to appropriately resource those priorities, defining near-term budget requests in terms of programming decisions, and then executing funding plans, operations, and measuring effectiveness as to provide feedback to the other phases of PPBE. In this way, the Department integrates its planning, programming, budgeting, and execution phases into a system to optimize the delivery of strategy and results to stakeholders and the public.

II. Scope

This Directive applies throughout DHS, except for the Office of Inspector General, unless specifically exempted by statute.

4. Establish methods to oversee program management and risk management activities for the programs and operations under their purview.

V. Policy & Requirements

A. Policy: DHS uses PPBE as a framework for resource allocation decision-making and to articulate program priorities. PPBE is a cyclic annual system consisting of four sequential but sometimes overlapping phases:

1. Planning involves a series of both longer-term and near-term activities. The four year strategic plan establishes the goals and objectives the Department is striving to achieve and drives all subsequent processes. Annually, planning initiates the new cycle of relevant activities related to PPBE (and performance results of the prior year should inform the planning... phase of the following year). The planning phase identifies and communicates long-term DHS strategies to guide operational activities, resource planning, and analytic activities to inform near and longer-term resource decisions. The culmination of the planning phase is the issuance of the RPG, which reflects the Secretary’s strategic and resource planning priorities for future years’ budget.

2. Programming follows the planning phase. The objective of the programming phase is to translate the Secretary’s priorities, strategic guidance, DHS Strategic Plan, and Component plans into specific resource allocation decisions articulated over a five-year period of the FYHSP. In the programming phase, DHS planning decision and guidance are translated into a detailed allocation of the time-phased resource requirements, including investments, construction, human capital, IT, and other support and operating expenses. Department-level programming is initiated with component RAP submissions and concludes with the issuance of the RAD and recording of decisions in the FYHSP system. Components may begin internal programming processes in the fall.

3. Budget formulation is informed by the outputs of the programming phase. The objective of the budgeting phase is to develop a fully justified one-year budget submission for DHS, including the defense of that budget to OMB and the Congress. The principal outputs of the budgeting phase are the budget justification materials for OMB and Congress. The enactment of an appropriation completes the budgeting phase.

4. Execution activities are continuous throughout the year. The objective of the execution phase is to responsibly expend resources and to account for cost and performance to determine if value is delivered to our stakeholders. Annual analysis and reporting of financial expenditures and performance measure results are key deliverables during this phase. Reporting on Agency Priority Goals designed to deliver near-term results aligned to leadership priorities also occurs during this phase. During the execution phase the Agency Strategic Review is another mechanism to assess implementation progress, understand accomplishments and challenges/risks, and seek ways to continuously improve. Fundamental to PPBE is the use of execution information to inform the other phases of the system.

B. The FYHSP is the official DHS Program of Record summarizing DHS programs and associated resources for the budget year plus four years in support of strategic goals, objectives, and planning priorities and reflects the Administration’s position on the DHS top-line and the allocation of DHS resources across Component programs and DHS missions. A FYHSP report is submitted to Congress each year at or near the time of the President’s Budget request.
1. The primary database of record for the FYHSP is the FYHSP system found at https://fyhsp.dhs.gov.

2. Programs, systems, and processes that have direct linkage with the DHS PPBE include:
   a. Joint Requirements and Integration and Management System;
   b. Acquisition Management;
   c. Information Technology Portfolio Management;
   d. Capital Planning and Investment Control;
   e. Performance Management Framework; and
   f. Human Capital/Workforce Planning.

3. Additional information regarding PPBE can be found in Instruction 101-01-001 PPBE Instruction, Instruction 101-01-001-01, and in the DHS CFO Financial Management Policy Manual located at the following link: http://cfo-policy.dhs.gov.
