QFR Set Number: Q000036  Committee Question Number: 295  Topic: FEMA  Question: Most hospitals do not have the ability to handle large numbers of casualties, so called surge capacity. I have long-supported grants to states and cities, through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), for planning, coordination and facility needs related to surge capacity. These Hospital Emergency Planning Grants have been steadily reduced from approximately $515 million in fiscal year 2004 to $423 million in fiscal year 2008, and only $361 million is proposed for fiscal year 2009. I remain concerned that hospitals do not have the resources they need to be prepared for a terrorist attack. In Washington, DC, for example, I am advised that there are fewer than 3,000 beds. In light of HHS funding cuts and the existing need to ensure our hospital facilities are prepared, what can the Department do to ensure that there is adequate surge capacity available to respond to an attack or emergency situation? Committee: Appropriations (Senate)  Hearing Date: 03/04/2008  Hearing Title: DHS Budget Report  Witness(es): Secretary Chertoff  Roles: The Honorable Arlen Specter(Primary, No Role)

QFR Set Number: Q000166  Committee Question Number: 31  Topic: section 238  Question: Section 238 of the INA already permits a criminal alien to waive his right to a removal hearing as part of a plea bargain with the U.S. Attorney, yet the procedure is relatively unknown. Does DHS participate in the Section 238 waiver process? If so, how?

Over the past 5 years, how many times has Section 238 been used? If possible, please provide this information by year and district.

Do you believe US Attorneys adequately utilize this provision?

Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 35 currently allows the federal government to move for a reduction in sentence for ¿substantial assistance¿ to the government. Would you support an amendment to Rule 35 that allows the prosecutor to file for a sentencing reduction for ¿waiver of rights and substantial assistance in removal proceedings?¿

Should Congress consider legislation that directs the Sentencing Commission to study solutions and promulgate guidelines? The U.S. Sentencing Guidelines already allow for a number of downward departures and adjustments for things like acceptance of responsibility (Section 3E1.1) and substantial assistance (Section 5K1.1).

QFR Set Number: Q000166

Committee Question Number: 32

Topic: removal proceedings

Question: Only a small percentage of the 300,000-455,000 removable criminal aliens are in federal custody (between 17K and 50K).

How can Congress and DHS best encourage state and local prosecutors and judges to give credit for waiving challenges to removal proceedings?

Do you believe the Rapid REPAT Program is a good model for Congress to expand or broaden?

Are you aware of any problems with those who have been granted early release in exchange for a waiver of removal?

The Secure Communities Plan notes that New York saved approximately $12 million a year since 1995 in incarceration costs under Rapid REPAT. If this program has been around for so long why is not more broadly used? Are there obstacles to expanding the program?

Do you see any constitutional or practical problems with allowing for sentencing credit for waivers of removal?
