	QFR Set Number: Q000169 Committee Question Number: 1 Topic: staffing Question: Prior to Hurricane Katrina FEMA had nearly 1,700 Permanent Full-Time employees. Today, the

	¿new¿ FEMA has nearly 3,000 and is authorized for over 4,000 positions for FY08. Efforts to ¿staff up¿ in several agencies in the Department have been challenging and I commend FEMA for working to meet these challenges over the past several years. That beings said, FEMA has a challenge of filling over 1,000 vacancies by September. What I¿m most concerned with is where the staffing levels will be at FEMA over the next year and the next five years. It is imperative that FEMA have a laser- focus on recruitment, retention, and career progression strategies and plans. What are the biggest challenges to staffing up FEMA ¿ is it finding the expertise necessary for the vacant positions? Is it due to delays in processing for security clearances? How can these challenges be best addressed? Committee: HOMELAND SECURITY (HOUSE) Hearing Date: 04/09/2008 Witness(es): Mr. Harvey E. 	QFR Set Number: Q000169 Committee Question Number: 2 Topic: grant funds Question: Members of the Committee have expressed concerns that the FY 2008 Homeland Security Grant Program Guidance contains provisions that restrict the use of grant funds for personnel costs. While, the Implementing the Provisions of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, permits grant recipients to use up to 50% of their grant funds for any combination of personnel activities (including overtime and backfill costs), the Guidance attempts to impose far lower caps on personnel spending. Can you explain why FEMA has not complied with the law? Committee: HOMELAND SECURITY (HOUSE) Hearing Date: 04/09/2008 Witness(es): Mr. Harvey E. QFR Set Number: Q000257
Committee Question Number: 8
Topic: state and local efforts
Question: Secretary Napolitano, as former Governor of Arizona you understand that all disasters are local. In fact, you stated during your Senate confirmation hearing that, ¿the Federal government can not do homeland security alone. ¿

Can you explain your philosophy on how the Department intends to better integrate State, local and tribal governments in preparing for, planning and response to a catastrophic disaster along the Northern and Southern borders?

How do you intend for the Office of Emergency Communications to implement the Border Interoperability Demonstrations Projects, as authorized in P.L. 109-295?

What metrics do you plan to implement to assess the effectiveness of the homeland security grant dollars are funneled to States, local, and Tribal governments?

QFR Set Number: Q000076
Committee Question Number: 2
Topic: regulatory and statutory structures
Question: How do existing regulatory and statutory structures affect the ability to draw on private sector resources and develop flexible means of using their capacities?

For example, after Katrina, Rite-Aid offered to refill prescriptions of those who had been evacuated to other states, but when it sent in pharmacists to help with in the increased demand, it found that in some cases its out-of-state pharmacists could not do so because they were not licensed in the state. How can those issues be appropriately addressed?

QFR Set Number: Q000145 Committee Question Number: 1 Topic: IBIC demonstration project Question: Mr. Essid, as you know, the International Border Interoperability Communications Demonstration Project was created by the Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, which was signed into law on August 3, 2007. It is my understanding that your office has been coordinating with the FCC and the Department of Commerce to decide the location of six communities along the Northern and Southern borders for this pilot project. Can you give the Committee an update of what has transpired thus far in your interactions with the FCC and the Commerce Department? Can you explain the criteria being developed to choose these six communities and when you expect it to begin? Given what you heard at the hearing on February 19, 2008 about the vulnerabilities and the unique border positioning we are confronted with in my District along the Texas-Mexico border, do you believe Laredo would be an appropriate location for this border demonstration project? Committee: HOMELAND SECURITY (HOUSE) Hearing Date: 02/19/2008 Witness(es): Mr. Chris Essid Director Office of Emergency Communications Office of Cybersecurity and Communications NPPD Roles: The Honorable Henry Cuellar(Primary, No Role)

The FCC is currently in the process of auctioning this spectrum. In your testimony, Mr. Peters, you raise a very troubling fact, that the 700 MHz band will not become available to public safety along the Texas border until appropriate agreements between the U.S. and Mexico are negotiated. Mr. Essid, with the February 17, 2009 just a year away, can you explain who the principal Federal agencies involved in these negotiations, DHS, Department of State? According to a March 2008 report by the Department of Homeland Security Inspector General, mission assignment policies, procedures, training, staffing, and funding have never been fully addressed by FEMA, creating misunderstandings among federal agencies concerning operational and fiduciary responsibilities. In addition, the report says FEMA guidelines regarding the mission assignment process are vague. Do you dispute the finding of the report? If so, what has FEMA done to enhance the management of mission assignments? Committee: HOMELAND SECURITY (HOUSE) Hearing Date: 04/09/2008 Witness(es): Mr. Harvey E. QFR Set Number: Q000169 Committee Question Number: 4 Topic: reforms Question: FEMA has gone through enormous reforms since Hurricane Katrina. Many of the reforms were mandated by Congress. Others were initiated internally by the Department. However, proposals continue to be occasionally put forward, both in the Congress and on the election trail, to reorganize yet again by stripping FEMA out of DHS. Other substantial changes such as making the FEMA Administrator have a term of 6 years have also been suggested. Having served as a senior official within FEMA for the past two years, do you believe FEMA can work within the Department of Homeland Security or should we make it an independent agency? What do you see as the pros and cons of FEMA being a part of the Department of Homeland Security?
