Subject: FOIA Request for Office of the Secretary's Weekly Report

Jordan,

Attached for your information is a FOIA request received by this office seeking a copy of the "Weekly Departmental Report for the Department of Homeland Security produced between January 1, 2009 and May 1, 2009," which was further described as the "brief report from each of the offices... produced through the Office of the Secretary."

Although this particular request does not fit the criteria you set forth for inclusion in the weekly report of significant FOIA requests (i.e. he is an individual who is a blogger and not tied to a broader news organization), due to the subject matter, I thought you may want to be aware of this request. This office will task the Executive Secretariat to search for responsive records.

Catherine,

From the list that you provided to me, I extrapolated those cases that were actually received in the Privacy Office and included them in the attached spreadsheet. Also attached are copies of the incoming request letters and outgoing responses, where applicable, for each case. For those cases where we referred the requests to other DHS components to handle, I have indicated so in the spreadsheet.

If you require further information, please let me know.

V- would you mind taking a look at the attached list from the front office. I will collect the incoming and release packages from the components since this list was compiled using past weekly reports. However, since some of these requests potentially involve multiple components, I need to know if any where referred and to whom. Also, would you have someone on our staff collect the incoming request letter and/or released final response for any that we processed? If there are any on here that we have not sent finals out on, we need to clear them through the front office prior to release. Thanks.

Importance: High

Hello all,

Each week our office reports to the DHS Front Office on significant FOIA requests received. From the list we provide, the Front Office extrapolates those requests that may be of concern to the White House and includes those requests in its weekly Cabinet Report. Effective immediately, the Front Office will begin notifying Catherine of those cases that have been tagged by the Front Office for White House review. Going forward, the Front Office will review and must clear on all cases that have been tagged.

Question for Loren and James: Is there any way to add a function in our tracking system that will allow us to identify the tagged requests?

Question for everyone: Can you come up with some ideas for a uniform way that we can mark the case folders for these requests so that when one comes across my, Bill's, or Sabrina's desks, we are clear that we're dealing with a tagged request?

The following cases have been tagged by the DHS Front Office. For those requests that are still pending, any proposed responses must be cleared by the Front Office prior to release.

Three days works. As it relates to sending you any requests going to media organizations or third-party groups, I think you might get overwhelmed. Instead, what if we sit down with the weekly reports for the last three months (or even six months) and you determine the incoming requests in which you have an interest. If by chance they have already been released and gone out the door, then it will be a moot point. If they haven't been released, then I can make certain the components route them your way prior to release. I think this may be a more manageable way of handling a very large subset of records. Thoughts?

Thanks! Going forward, Julia will send the requests that the Front Office would like to review each week on Tuesday night (after we review the Weekly FOIA report). Then, when the package of responsive records is assembled for these requests, the Front Office would like to review these as well before they are released. The list Julia sent this week will likely be an average amount. In the interim, can you pass along any responsive records going to media organizations or third-party groups before they're released (i.e. in other words, the requests that are currently in process but for which we won't have asked for the original requests)?

In terms of turnaround time, would 3-days work alright for you? I know particularly in the middle of the week it will be difficult for us to get through this much material, and so an extra day would be extremely helpful.

Thanks again!

Hi Julia and Jordan,

Attached are the three FOIA responses you requested via email last night. Please note that the responses have already been sent, as noted by the dates in each bullet. However, I believe this subset is actually a good exemplar of the volume for a typical week. For now let's use this as an average weekly page volume of final releases that we will need to review prior to release. Given this volume, do you think we can establish a two-day turn around time? We can always adjust this timeframe down the road, but this gives us a starting point. Thoughts? Also, is there a particular section of the DHS Cabinet Report that will list the FOIA requests that the front office wishes to review prior to release? In looking through some of the latest reports, I do not see any FOIA requests noted. Thanks for clarification and let me know if there are questions on the attached.

The below incoming requests will be emailed shortly:

- On September 10th, Erika Angulo of NBC News (Washington, D.C.), requested from the Coast Guard, records regarding the death of an individual caused by lightning that occurred on September 5, 2009, near Solider Key.
- On September 15th, Eileen Sullivan of The Associated Press (Washington, D.C.), requested from the Coast Guard (USCG), records regarding the exercise held on the Potomac River on September 11, 2009, to specifically include all communications that occurred before, during, and after the exercise between USCG employees and other federal, state, and local officials.

The volume will definitely depend on the week (for example, in last week's report to the WH, no FOIAs were identified), but we can simply pick a week and ask the components for the page counts of the releases for that week to give us some frame of reference. Sound ok?

One more thought: Julia, would you mind adding me to the weekly Cabinet Report distribution list? It is my understanding that the report is disseminated on Mondays. I can review the report to identify the applicable requests of interest and then I will notify the components which of their requests are tagged for review prior to release.

Subject: Amendment to Notification to Components of DHS Front Office Review

Good Morning. Last week we disseminated the attached guidance regarding procedural changes to FOIA request processing. Please see item three and note that I will inform components each Wednesday (instead of Monday) if any of its component's requests are included in the weekly Cabinet Report to the White House and, therefore, must be reviewed by the DHS front office prior to release. Those partial or final release packages must be sent directly to me at Catherine.Papoi@dhs.gov.

Thank you,
Catherine

Prior to final release, the DHS Front Office will review the responses to the below FOIA requests. I will coordinate the process. When your component finalizes the release, please forward the response letter and documents for release in a single .pdf file to Catherine.papoi@dhs.gov. Again, it is very important that your office not send the response to the requester until I notify you that the response has been reviewed and is cleared to be sent to the requester. If your office has already responded to one of the below requests, please forward the entire release package (letter and records) to me via email by C.O.B. Monday, October 5th. In addition, by C.O.B. Monday, October 5th, please email all of the below incoming request letters to me. Thank you for your work on this front.

Jordan,

Attached is a copy of the request, which is being handled by the Coast Guard's Office of Civil Rights, Investigations and Response Team. Two sets of documents were requested, one of which is currently under review, and the other of which the Coast Guard has no record. It is expected that the Coast Guard will issue a partial release within the next few days.

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Thanks.

Jordan,

To answer your first question, yes, the 2001 review is pre-DHS. However, as there are components of this Department that existed prior to the creation of DHS, those components are required to respond to requests for records that existed prior to that timeframe if the requested records are still in their possession or control.

As for your second question, I am following up with the Secret Service to determine what course of action they are taking with respect to this request. I hope to have an answer to you by COB today.

Thank you.

A few followup questions for our weekly report:

Since this is a 2001 review, isn't it pre-DHS?

- 5/17: Thomas Jackson, a reporter for the Coast Guard Report (Chesapeake, VA), requested from the USCG a copy of the Equal Employment Opportunity Review Program report and the 2001 KPMG program review of the Office of Civil Rights.

How are we responding to this?

- 5/21: Bill Dedman, a reporter for MSNBC (New York, NY), requested from the USSS all records relating to any and all visits made to the White House from 12:00pm on January 20, 2009, to the present.

Thanks!

Today I received the below email from Julia Fox with the requests the front office wishes to review prior to release (I will receive an email like this from Julia every Tuesday). She lists all of the media requests from our weekly report. This equates to a grand total of 53 releases I am coordinating for front office review and this has turned into a full-time job. I am stopping by the NAC on my way in tomorrow morning for my flu shot, but if we can discuss coordination options (I have some ideas I want to run past you) tomorrow at some point, it would be great. Three days works. As it relates to sending you any requests going to media organizations or third-party groups, I think you might get overwhelmed. Instead, what if we sit down with the weekly reports for the last three months (or even six months) and you determine the incoming requests in which you have an interest. If by chance they have already been released and gone out the door, then it will be a moot point. If they haven't been released, then I can make certain the components route them your way prior to release. I think this may be a more manageable way of handling a very large subset of records. Thoughts?

Thanks! Going forward, Julia will send the requests that the Front Office would like to review each week on Tuesday night (after we review the Weekly FOIA report). Then, when the package of responsive records is assembled for these requests, the Front Office would like to review these as well before they are released. The list Julia sent this week will likely be an average amount. In the interim, can you pass along any responsive records going to media organizations or third-party groups before they're released (i.e. in other words, the requests that are currently in process but for which we won't have asked for the original requests)?

In terms of turnaround time, would 3-days work alright for you? I know particularly in the middle of the week it will be difficult for us to get through this much material, and so an extra day would be extremely helpful.

Thanks again!

Hi Julia and Jordan,

Attached are the three FOIA responses you requested via email last night. Please note that the responses have already been sent, as noted by the dates in each bullet. However, I believe this subset is actually a good exemplar of the volume for a typical week. For now let's use this as an average weekly page volume of final releases that we will need to review prior to release. Given this volume, do you think we can establish a two-day turn around time? We can always adjust this timeframe down the road, but this gives us a starting point. Thoughts? Also, is there a particular section of the DHS Cabinet Report that will list the FOIA requests that the front office wishes to review prior to release? In looking through some of the latest reports, I do not see any FOIA requests noted. Thanks for clarification and let me know if there are questions on the attached.

The below incoming requests will be emailed shortly:

- On September 10th, Erika Angulo of NBC News (Washington, D.C.), requested from the Coast Guard, records regarding the death of an individual caused by lightning that occurred on September 5, 2009, near Solider Key.
- On September 15th, Eileen Sullivan of The Associated Press (Washington, D.C.), requested from the Coast Guard (USCG), records regarding the exercise held on the Potomac River on September 11, 2009, to specifically include all communications that occurred before, during, and after the exercise between USCG employees and other federal, state, and local officials.
- On September 18th, Christopher C. Horner of the Competitive Enterprise Institute (Washington, D.C.), requested from the Secret Service a copy of the White House Visitor Logs for the period of January 21, 2009, and June 30, 2009.
- On September 21st, Mike Williams, an individual from Leicester, England, requested from the Secret Service, all White House visitor logs from September 11, 2001, to the present, that reflect the entries and exits of Richard Clarke and Lynne Cheney from the White House.

I know you are working on collecting data for us. The below items are from the Privacy/FOIA weekly report, so are a higher priority. Could you please send us all of the original FOIA requests for the 4 items listed under "FOIA Requests," and the responsive documents and letters for the 3 items listed under "FOIA – Releases" sometime tomorrow? Then whenever you can collect the rest of the data would be great.

Thanks for your help, and let me know if you have any questions.

The volume will definitely depend on the week (for example, in last week's report to the WH, no FOIAs were identified), but we can simply pick a week and ask the components for the page counts of the releases for that week to give us some frame of reference. Sound ok?

One more thought: Julia, would you mind adding me to the weekly Cabinet Report distribution list? It is my understanding that the report is disseminated on Mondays. I can review the report to identify the applicable requests of interest and then I will notify the components which of their requests are tagged for review prior to release.

Agreed – sounds like a good idea. Is it possible to pass along a sample week's worth of material so we can estimate the time it will take to turn them around? Thanks!

The only other piece to this process is that I am informing the components that they are to hold off on final releases until I give them the thumbs-up after both the front office and I review the responses. Therefore, I wanted to meet to figure out the most expeditious way we both review the final responses and still get these requests out the door within the statutory time-frame. We should probably set a turn-around deadline so to keep us all on track. Thoughts?

We'd be happy to meet. Our impression was the only change to the current process was that, in addition to the Weekly FOIA Report, the actual FOIA request documents and the responsive records will be passed along to the Front Office prior to being released. Please let us know if there is something else that we're missing!

Hi Jordan and Julia,

Per Amy, you are the POCs for receiving significant FOIA responses for front office review. Since this will be a new process, are you amenable to meeting briefly with me to discuss implementation/facilitation of the review process? If so, are you available next Tuesday or Wednesday at 3:00?

Thank you,

Today I received the below email from Julia Fox with the requests the front office wishes to review prior to release (I will receive an email like this from Julia every Tuesday). She lists all of the media requests from our weekly report. This equates to a grand total of 53 releases I am coordinating for front office review and this has turned into a full-time job. I am stopping by the NAC on my way in tomorrow morning for my flu shot, but if we can discuss coordination options (I have some ideas I want to run past you) tomorrow at some point, it would be great. Thanks.

James Were you able to come up with a way to track the tagged requests in our open case spreadsheet? Catherine has added some additional cases (see below).

LaShawn Do you know what the corresponding case numbers are and/or who they're assigned to? We need to mark the files accordingly. Also, I'll need to forward to Catherine copies of the acknowledgment letters, and nothing else should be released without clearance from the Front Office.

Subject: DHS Front Office FOIA Review
Importance: High

Hello all,

Each week our office reports to the DHS Front Office on significant FOIA requests received. From the list we provide, the Front Office extrapolates those requests that may be of concern to the White House and includes those requests in its weekly Cabinet Report. Effective immediately, the Front Office will begin notifying Catherine of those cases that have been tagged by the Front Office for White House review. Going forward, the Front Office will review and must clear on all cases that have been tagged.

Question for Loren and James: Is there any way to add a function in our tracking system that will allow us to identify the tagged requests?

Question for everyone: Can you come up with some ideas for a uniform way that we can mark the case folders for these requests so that when one comes across my, Bill's, or Sabrina's desks, we are clear that we're dealing with a tagged request?

The following cases have been tagged by the DHS Front Office. For those requests that are still pending, any proposed responses must be cleared by the Front Office prior to release.

Catherine, I have a question on a couple of these cases that were tagged by the Front Office. Toni mentioned that she had spoken to you about these so I want to make sure I understand the background before I sign off on an acknowledgement letter.

- On September 29th, J. Scott Tarbutton, a representative of Cozen O'Connor, in Philadelphia, PA, requested from DHS all records pertaining to Abu Zubaydah, former senior leader of Al Qaida, to specifically include records of interrogations and intelligence reports. (FOIA cases 09-1048 and 09-1049 aggregated)
- On September 29th, J. Scott Tarbutton, a representative of Cozen O'Connor, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, requested from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) all records pertaining to Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, former senior leader of Al Qaida, to specifically include records of interrogations and intelligence reports. (FOIA cases 09-1050 and 09-1051 aggregated)

According to Toni, she spoke with you about the above two requests (copies also attached for your reference), which seek records on two former Al Qaida members re 9/11. I don't know the citizenship status of these individuals, but Toni mentioned she'd discussed with you [REDACTED] b5

[REDACTED] but I want to confirm that with you since these requests are of interest to the Front Office and/or White House, and there is quite a bit of info already publicly available about the two former Al Qaida members.

Thanks.

Please review the below list and determine if your component will be responding to any of the requests. Be aware that a request may not have been sent to you directly, but instead come to you as a referral from my office or another component. Prior to final release, the DHS HQ Front Office will review the responses to the below FOIA requests. I will coordinate the process. When your component finalizes the release, please forward the response letter and documents for release in a single .pdf file to Catherine.papoi@dhs.gov.

Again, it is very important that your office not send the response to the requester until I notify you that the response has been reviewed and is cleared to be sent to the requester.

If your office has already responded to one of the below requests, please forward the entire release package (letter and records) to me via email immediately. Thank you for your continued work on this “One DHS” coordination effort.
