Homeland Security

I am writing to protest bush's National Environmental Policy Act. I think you are a bunch of malevolent automatons ruled by politics, stupidity, and greed, but not by a conscience. No one group, or regime should be given absolute power without accountability over the survival of our planet. This planet belongs to EVERYONE, not just the "elite."

This policy is nothing more than an obscenely obvious attempt to sell our environment to the highest bidder. Just like bush sold our soldiers to Haliburton. What friend of bush will be the big winner this time?

You are like the soldiers who put the Jews on the train. Just doing your small part in a great tapestry of destruction. If you think that absolves you of guilt, you are mistaken. People remember them, and they will remember you. You will go down in history as mass murderers for the crimes you have, and are about to commit against our environment, and humanity.

Your job is to protect our homeland. Your decision in this matter will be a direct, and transparent reflection of how important your commitment to our homeland is. The whole world is watching you.
